Arcus Holds Third Annual Take Your Daughters & Sons to Work Day

15 students participate at firm's corporate headquarters

HARRISBURG, Pa. (April 23, 2009) – Arcus, an international provider of talent management and consulting solutions, announced that they are participating in Take Your Daughters & Sons to Work Day for the third year in a row and have 15 students participating in a jam packed day at the firm's corporate headquarters.

The day is centered on exposing girls and boys, ages 8 – 18, to what the Arcus team member in their lives does on a regular basis and how that contribution has allowed for goal realization both personally and professionally. Emphasis on the value of their education, helping them discover the power and possibilities associated with a balanced work and family life, providing them an opportunity to learn and take part in activities aimed at shedding light on future careers, and evaluating how they envision their future is the focus for the day. Hands-on and interactive activities have been planned to assist the students prepare for their future careers, as well as to interact with parents, relatives, mentors and friends and learn more about normal job responsibilities, the importance of exploring one's interests and possible career paths.

“We are thrilled to have so many students with us again this year,” said R. Douglas Firestone, President and CEO of Arcus. “It's exciting that on a day centered around learning more about career planning, that we can take an active role in sharing our expertise and hopefully play a small role in preparing and mentoring the students for eventual success in the workplace.
